Leaders' Panel: The Future of Globalization: Balancing Local and Global Dynamics - Global Trade Effect on Foreign Direct Investment (FDIs) Flow

International trade has long been recognized as a powerful driver of economic growth and efficiency. By enabling countries to specialize in the production of goods and services in which they have a comparative advantage, trade fosters economic interdependence and promotes the flow of capital, techno...

The Islamic Centre for Development of Trade (ICDT) is pleased to announce the participation of its Director General, Mrs. Latifa Elbouabdellaoui, in the upcoming Annual Investment Meeting (AIM) Congress 2025, scheduled to take place in Abu Dhabi from April 7 to 9, 2025.

As part of the high-level agenda, Mrs. Elbouabdellaoui will host on 7th April, a panel discussion titled:

“The Future of Globalization: Balancing Local and Global Dynamics – Global Trade Effect on Foreign Direct Investment (FDIs) Flow.”

This timely session will explore the evolving dynamics of international trade and Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) in a rapidly changing global economy. Key topics will include the tension between local production and global supply chains, the impact of regional trade agreements, the rise of protectionist policies, and the shifting patterns of FDI flows driven by global trade trends.

The panel will offer strategic insights for policymakers, investors, and business leaders seeking to navigate the complex intersection of globalization, trade, and investment in the post-pandemic era.

The ICDT remains committed to fostering trade and investment as key levers of sustainable development and economic integration across the OIC region and the global South.
